Description of Invention: Please preserve all records of the invention and attach additional pages for the following. Each additional page should be signed and dated by the inventor(s) and witness(es).

A. Description of the construction and operation of the invention (include appropriate schematic, block, & timing diagrams; drawings; samples; graphs; flowcharts; computer listings; test results; etc.)

Take a document and render it to digital bits which are then stored in a simple e-book for later reading. Have the rendering done by a printer or computer print driver so it looks the same as it will when it is printed. This lets reviewers see how a document will look in printed form before it is printed.

B. Advantages of the invention over what has been done before.

Drafts can be reviewed before sending to a large print site. A simple digital e-book doesn't need a complex rendering system. A document can be rendered once and sent to many e-books. Many kinds and formats of source data are converted to a raster digital form.

C. Problems solved by the invention.

E-book costs can be reduced. Everyone sees the document the same way even if they have e-books from different vendors.

D. Prior solutions and their disadvantages (if available, attach copies of product literature, technical articles, patents, etc.).

HP appreciates your innovative efforts and that you have reported your invention for management assessment and recording in HP's intellectual property files. This disclosure and other papers and devices describing or embodying the subject matter of this invention should be treated as proprietary to HP and should not be disclosed in any form outside of HP without first consulting with the IP Section of the Legal Department. Such disclosure may destroy our ability to obtain patent protection.

Your invention disclosure will be reviewed at a Patent Coordinator Meeting to determine HP's interest in your invention, as well as to determine the urgency of possibly filing for a patent. To help with this decision, please provide Don Wadley x6-2085, the patent coordinator for your entity, with the following information:

- 1) Based on your knowledge of the state of the art:
 - a) What is new or unique about your approach with respect to what was already done?
 - b) What relative advantages does your approach have with respect to what was already done?
- 2) Do we presently plan to put this in a product? When will it likely be introduced into the market?

Your subject invention disclosure was reviewed by the Patent Coordinators Review Committee on August 15, 2000. It was determined a patent on your invention will be useful in the pursuit of HP's business interests.

Accordingly, your assistance will be needed in the development of a patent application covering your invention. Steve Dicke will be requested to prepare the patent application and you should be contacted within the next month or so as the application process is initiated.

HP relies heavily on the innovative developments of its members of the technical staff to produce new and better products. Your inventions are important and are greatly appreciated, whether or not selected for patenting. DECLARATION OF STEVEN E. DICKE AND SCOTT A. LUND

Commissioner for Patents
P.O. Box 1450
Alexandria, VA 22313-1450

Dear Sir/Madam:

This Declaration is submitted in support of the Revised Declaration of Prior Invention Under 37 C.F.R. 1.131 submitted to establish conception of the subject matter of the present patent application prior to the earliest effective date of June 30, 2000 of the McCurdy et al. U.S. Patent Application Publication No. 2002/0035697 coupled with due diligence from just prior to the earliest effective date of the McCurdy et al. U.S. Patent Application Publication No. 2002/0035697 up to the filing date of the present patent application (i.e., constructive reduction to practice).

The persons making this Declaration are patent attorneys Steven E. Dicke and Scott A. Lund of Dicke, Billig & Czaja. We state as follows:

On September 1, 2000, Steven E. Dicke received HP Invention Disclosure No. 10004428-1 from HP Patent Attorney-Outsourcing Manager Steven R. Ormiston (see Attachment 1). Upon receiving the invention disclosure, it was placed in queue to be prepared.

On September 1, 2000, Steven E. Dicke signed a Request for Quote and Engagement Letter Agreement for the preparation of a US Patent Application based on HP Invention Disclosure No. 10004428-1 (see Attachment 2). The agreement was subsequently signed by Steven R. Ormiston of HP on September 5, 2000.

During the period between approximately September 5, 2000 and May 15, 2001, we had a reasonable backlog of unrelated cases on which we worked reasonably hard and carried out expeditiously. Our practice was to attend to the preparation of patent applications having bar dates first and attend to the preparation of the remaining patent applications (including the present patent application) generally in the chronological order in which they were received.

Between at least May 25, 2001 and June 26, 2001, Scott A. Lund drafted and prepared the present patent application (see Attachment 3).
